

2021/2022 – A RETURN TO CAMPUS

Global Study Program

Julian Mogk, RWTH Aachen University

“UC Davis is a renowned university especially when it comes to sustainability, which I am interested in. Studying abroad is a great opportunity to get to know different fields outside of my engineering studies.”

Rohit Ramesh, SRM IST University

“Some of my friends are currently pursuing their undergraduate degrees at UC Davis, and they have always praised the university. Of all the possible universities to choose from for our semester exchange, we heard the most positive reviews for UC Davis.”

Minkyung Kim, Study Abroad Foundation

“The United States is a country with more and more diverse cultures than you might think. As long as you always accept new things with an open mind and have an active willingness to learn, you can achieve many opportunities and achievements.”

Aisya Tirtosudiro, Indonesian International Student Mobility Award

“The facilities here are so amazing! I’ve been spending my time by travelling with my friends—I’ve been to Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York—and using the facilities like the Activities and Recreation Center, library and 24-hour study room.”

A Visiting Student Program

The Global Study Program at UC Davis allows students from select partner institutions to take courses in a safe, peaceful environment, while studying under top professors in the nation.

2021-2022 Highlights

139 Students attended the Global Study Program

- 3.27 Average GPA
- 64 Students achieved a 3.7 GPA or higher
- 34 Participating universities representing 9 countries

96 percent of students would recommend the Global Study Program

International Leadership Development Seminar

Over the years, many Global Study Program students have requested the ability to take more courses with a focus on leadership from both U.S. and international perspectives. In recognition of this, the Global Study Program has partnered with the UC Davis Continuing and Professional Education Leadership Program to develop the International Leadership Development Seminar.

This seminar is specifically designed for international students who are interested in improving their leadership skills and learning more about American perspectives on leadership. The seminar will focus on leadership development and career services, and it will include networking opportunities, interactive activities and guest speakers.

During the 10-week seminar students will:

- Engage in community building with fellow international students
- Discuss leadership skills with peers
- Explore leadership tools and techniques common in the United States
- Practice leadership tools and techniques in a protected setting

This seminar is only open to UC Davis Global Study Program students, and participants who complete the seminar will earn a UC Davis Certificate and a badge for their LinkedIn profile. We are excited to be able to provide this new opportunity to our students and believe that it will enhance their international education experience and personal career opportunities.

UC Davis Ranks First in Internationalization

University of California, Davis, tied for first in diversity, inclusiveness and internationalization in the QS USA University Rankings. This ranking category considers a university's effort to be as inclusive as possible while providing an environment that promotes gender equality and reduced inequality. "UC Davis is proud to be recognized for what are among our core values — promoting a welcoming and inclusive community" said UC Davis Chancellor Gary S. May.

From Our Students

"I wasn't used to how informal and casual classroom discussions can be—it was considered rude to not preface your questions/opinions with a 'pardon me, excuse me' back home. I eventually got used to it, even participated in class discussions in this direct manner!"

Terra Dei Alibazah, Indonesian International Student Mobility Award

"I was part of the tennis club and travel team. My experience with the tennis team was amazing. I made a lot of friends and had some nice events with them."

Lars Lowinski, RWTH Aachen

"What I most enjoy is experiencing a completely different culture than India. Meeting new people, being more independent, getting to see places like San Francisco and Los Angeles, relishing food from different cultures, and the list goes on and on."

Adhiraj Bhagawati, SRM IST University
